Billing

Moose Mobile uses anniversary billing (12 billing cycles a year). Your anniversary day is set by the first service you activate on your account. Your billing cycle commences on the same day every month. If you add additional services to your account they will use the same anniversary day as the first service, even if the first service has since been disconnected. Any additional services not connected on the anniversary day will have their first month prorated to bring it into the same billing cycle. You will receive a proportional access fee, a proportional plan inclusion, and if you're on a promotional plan, a proportional discount for the remainder of the first billing cycle.

Moose Mobile uses direct debiting and requires a valid debit/credit card issued in your name to be used in the sign-up process. By default, we will use this card for monthly payments going forward. Once your initial payment has been made you may opt to use alternative payment methods for future invoices. Please note that some alternative payment methods incur a handling fee. See Payment Options.

Your invoice is generally created on the first day of your billing cycle and is sent via email. Invoices are due 7 days after being sent to you.

It is advised that invoices be paid on time to avoid being charged the $15.00 late payment fee.

Moose Mobile charges the monthly access fee in advance, if you cancel before the end of your billing cycle, charges will still apply until the cycle ends. We do not offer pro-rata credits or refunds for unused days.
